GAMBLING.

It has been announced that the fashionable gambling establishments at Baden Baden and elsewhere in Germany are to be closed up by order of the government after January 1, 1870. This has caused considerable exercise of mind upon the part of the loose characters who generally resort to such places, and a considerable display of virtuous satisfaction by people on both sides of the Atlantic who justly regard such places as hotbeds of vice and crime. It may be questioned, however, whether some of the people in our American cities, who congratulate themselves upon the fact that our government has never tolerated such vicious establishments, had not better take a closer look at what is going on at home. It cannot be concealed that gambling to an enormous extent, and for all sorts of sums, from a few cents to hundreds of thousands of dollars, is carried on with but little attempt at concealment in every one of our cities. Suits for the recovery of sums lost in gambling houses, by clerks and other persons who have robbed their employers or principals, come before the public every year, and within a few months actions have been brought in a neighboring city by various victims to recover large amounts plundered from them. Now and then such things crop out in Philadelphia as well as elsewhere, and it is well known that gambling houses flourish here, and are doing the same mischief that they do everywhere. Attempts to prosecute and punish the keepers of such places nearly always fail, and in ways that are very mysterious to the general body of the people. It is the same with lottery and policy offices, which are nothing less than gambling houses; and although the sums involved are much smaller, yet the evils, distress, vice and crime that they produce are much more widespread, because this species of gambling is resorted to by immensely larger numbers, who are for the most part poor, and even very poor people. The proceedings of these lottery and policy dealers are quite as open as those of the authorized gambling establishments in Germany. Every one who cares about it can learn at any hour of the day or night where he may purchase tickets, and the bulletins containing the drawn numbers are regularly and openly served upon customers, and can be had by almost any person who chooses to ask for them. Where it is notorious that such gambling, along with all other kinds, is openly carried on in many of our principal streets, and no serious effort is made to suppress it, in what way can the people of this or any other American city claim superority over the German provinces, where it is authorized by law, simply because our government gives no direct encouragement to it?—Phila. Ledger.

THE KILLING OF SENATOR CASE.

Correct Particulars.

From Nashville Union and Dispatch, 18.]

A correct account of the killing of Senator Case in Obion, representing the senatorial district composed of the counties of Obion, Weakley and Henry, has at length been developed.

Col. J. D. C. Atkins, who lives in Paris, Henry county, and who is cognizant of the facts, was in the city yesterday, and from him we learn, substantially, the following particulars: It appears that Frank Farris, who committed the deed, had been a soldier in the Confederate army, and that Kinman, the man who was first shot, had been strongly identified with the opposite. On the return of Farris to Obion county, after the cessation of hostilities, Kinman was officious in heaping indignities and insults upon him. On one occasion Kinman abruptly stepped up to Farris and with his knife rudely cut the Confederate buttons from his (Farris') coat, which the latter naturally enough, indignantly resented. From this circumstance hostile feelings were at once engendered between the two parties, Farris harboring feelings of vengeance for the insult given him. On Friday last the two met on horseback in the town of Troy, the county seat of Obion county, when words of no amiable character passed between them. Kinman dismounted and Farris drawing his pistol fired, the ball taking effect in Kinman's lower jaw, penetrating the head, and coming out on the other side, inflicting, it is thought, a mortal wound, though the wounded man was alive at last accounts, with, however, little hopes being entertained of his recovery.

After this transaction, Farris left Troy and rode out to the country, his arrest not having been attempted. He met in the road Mr. Case, who was also on horseback. Farris turned his horse and they both rode forward in the same direction toward the residence of Mr. Case. They rode in this way together till they met two other men on horseback, going just the opposite direction. On meeting these two men, Farris drew his pistol in the immediate presence of the three men and fired at Case, the shot killing him almost on the spot. Farris then took to the woods and made his escape. The affair creates a deep sensation in that part of the country. It is to be hoped that justice will be done in the case.

At Pernambuco, recently, a terrible riot occurred between the Brazilians and Portuguese. Eighty Portuguese were killed, when the Portuguese, combining with the English, killed one hundred of the Brazilians.

GROVER & BAKER'S
CELEBRATED
Elastic Stitch and Lock Stitch

SEWING MACHINES!

Why Grover & Baker's Machine is Best

1. It is more simple, durable, and less liable to derangement than others.
2. It sews from ordinary spools, and no re-winding of thread is necessary.
3. It sews with equal facility all fabrics, the most delicate and the heaviest, and with all kinds of thread, silk, cotton or linen.
4. Its seam is so strong and elastic that it never breaks, even on the bias.
5. It fastens both ends of the seam by its own operation.
6. Its seam, though cut at every stitch, remains firm, and neither runs or ravels in its wear.
7. Its seam is more plump and beautiful, and retains its plumpness after washing better than any other.
8. Its seam can be removed in altering garments, after proper inspection, without picking or cutting them.
9. By slacking and varying the tensions upon the threads, necessary in other machines, is unnecessary in this. The tension being once adjusted on the Grover & Baker Machine, any amount of sewing may be done without change.
10. It makes beautiful embroidery without any change or arrangement, simply by inserting threads of suitable sizes and colors for this purpose. It is the only machine that both embroiders and sews perfectly.

The attention of Tailors, Manufacturers of Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Carriage Trimmers and all others requiring the best and most effective Lock-stitch Machines, is invited to our new Shuttle Machine, especially adapted to Manufacturing purposes.

IMPEACHMENT OF THE PRESIDENT.

A correspondent of the St. Louis Times writes to that paper, inquiring its opinion of the presidential impeachment business. "Will they attempt it and will they succeed?" he asks, and the Times, not answering to a prophetic name, and being afflicted with modesty, very frankly admits that it don't know. But if he desires to know what we think about it, we can very easily accommodate him. Unless the radical party in congress is engineered by a squad of idiots or madmen, we do not believe impeachment will be attempted. There are two classes of men in congress who would be likely to urge it on. The first is composed of those men who are frantic with disappointment. The president has refused to appoint their tools and friends to positions, and in many cases he has turned them out, and for this they can never forgive him. The other class can boast of very limited membership embracing those persons only who would move impeachment to obtain notoriety. Undoubtedly ASHLEY is one of the number, and having secured the lead has removed temptation from the other remaining few. There is a large number of the radical party in congress who manage to be very well satisfied with their position and their power. They do not propose to compromise or hazard it in the attempt to obtain more. They know that the president is almost powerless. They control all appointments by the power of confirmation, and can pass as they have passed, the most obnoxious laws over his head. To impeach will be to incur additional hostility, and may result in positive harm to them as a party. They prefer to let well enough alone.

The commercial world is as disproportionately divided on the question. Only a comparatively small number of the monied men of New York are in favor of impeachment, and they desire it only for what they can make out of it in the rise in gold. It is well enough knewn that the mere rumor of a serious intention on the part of congress to proceed with the ASHLEY resolution, and the undue importance attached to the refusal of the house to lay it on the table, caused gold to run up three per cent. Many of the leading firms have sent agents to Washington, to keep them supplied with early and reliable information as to the progress made in the direction of impeachment. This class, therefore, who have their money at hand, and are base enough to desire to thrive at the expense of almost everybody else, desire impeachment. The large majority of capitalists, however, are directly the other way. Every man who holds a bunch of five-twenties, or seven-thirties, is interested in defeating such a movement. Therefore, as Wall street governs congress, we do not believe it will be or can be effected.

RUSSIA AND AUSTRIA.

The Berlin newspapers have latterly become as sensational and unreliable as the Independence Belge was, not long ago. Two-thirds of the political rumors of the day originate with Berlin news manufacturers. The last canard of any importance related, with great particularity, that Russia had quarreled with Austria on account of the latter power having sent a known sympathizer with the Poles to act as governor of Gallicia. It is indignantly declared, in the government gazette of St. Petersburg, that this statement is false, from first to last—that there has not even been a misunderstanding between Russia and Austria, and that there is not likely to be any. Austria was trying to recuperate, after her defeat and humiliation of the seven-days' war, and Baron VON BEUST, her new premier, had assured the leaders of the popular party in Hungary that the formation of a ministry composed exclusively of Hungarians was only a matter of time. He who can reconcile Hungary and the house of Hapsburg will greatly help to rebuild the shattered power of Austria, and VON BEUST is likely to do this, if any single statesman can do it.

EUROPEAN POLITICAL RUMORS.

We have to mention, without comment on the probability of its truth or falsehood, a current report in Europe that the coolness between France and Prussia is on the increase. It is particularly said that the king of Hanover, the elector of Hesse, and the duke of Nassau—sovereigns whose dominions have lately been annexed by Prussia—are trying to form at Vienna, Stuttgadt, and Darmstadt, a formal declaration of alliance with France when the Emperor NAPOLEON is ready to cross the Rhine, and that the bankers of Vienna and Frankfort have offered two hundred million of francs in support of the intervention. Perhaps this rumor may have been suggested by the belief that Count BISMARCK, notwithstanding all that he has done for Prussia, is not popular with the court, and that the king, a tolerable soldier but by no means a statesman, believes that his late successes were due very largely to his army and very slightly to his able minister. The state of Count BISMARCK'S health is anxiously watched in Germany. His disease (a swelling of the veins of the head and neck), attacks him when he works at his official duty, leaves him when he relaxes his labors, and may drive him into temporary and even permanent retirement. Then his royal master would probably be made to feel his value.

MAXIMILIAN'S COINS.

The New York Numismatic society are making themselves merry about a silver dollar issued by MAXIMILIAN, emperor of Mexico, which is on exhibition in that city. The emperor, whose effigy is on the coin, has a beard, which is so drawn as to bear, when the coin is turned upside down, a striking resemblance to the head of a donkey. The New York Numismatists have had a grave discussion to decide whether this resulted from design or was an intentional piece of satire on the part of the artist. The Mexicans are lucky, however, to have even donkey-marked silver in circulation, for our coins have been so long out of sight that the public generally have forgotten whether eagles or donkeys have most to do in ornamenting them.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

The eastern question has assumed a most threatening attitude. The world will not be surprised to learn at any moment that the Cretes are sustained by Greece and the whole power of Russia combined, in which event the power of the sultan will shake to its center, if it be not utterly overthrown. This danger may awaken western Europe to the necessity of averting it even at the expense of a general war. The aurora of liberty again flashes a fitful light upon the minarets of Constantinople. Again Athens gleams with burnished sabres.

JAS. SHOAFF, of the Decatur (Ill.) Magnet, is having his claims to the presidency put forth by some of his Illinois cotemporaries. A good selection—but we cannot support him. We remember his treatment of us when a boy, and—he was captain of the Callithumpians!

A NEW CURRENCY.

A Kentucky newspaper states that at the recent settlement of accounts with the state treasury by the sheriffs of the various "wolf-scalp" counties of that state, not a dollar of money was paid over. These sheriffs liquidated the entire taxation of their county with wolf-scalps, for each of which, in order to secure the destruction of wolves, the state pays a small amount.

TENNESSEE NEWS.

The Home Journal, published at Winchester, says: "There is in this county the finest facilities and conveniences for stock raising that can be found anywhere. About one-twentieth of the county is composed of mountain lands, the greater portion of which is adapted to stock growing—especially sheep and goats—as the mountain produces a kind of cane of which they are fond and live fat on through the winter season; and all that is necessary to raise sheep or goats is, simply to watch over them, keep them from straying, and pen them at night, to protect them from dogs, as there are no wolves in the country."

There were present on Tuesday, at the capitol, thirteen members of the state senate and forty members in the lower house. There still being no quorum, no regular business has been proceeded with. There will be no quorum for a week to come, it is thought.

The Knoxville Commercial has resumed its daily issue, after having been published as a tri-weekly for some time. We hope the Commercial may be able to keep on its feet. Knoxville certainly can afford to sustain one daily.

The Tennessee Female college has been purchased by the Rev. B. S. Callahan, from Virginia, and has been thoroughly repaired and refitted. It is the finest college building in the state, and possesses ample accommodations for at least two hundred boarders. Franklin is one of the most quiet and pleasant inland towns in the state, and will be reopened on the first Monday in next month. Refined society, beautiful surroundings, pure water, health, access to churches of all denominations, all combine to influence parents to send their daughters for instruction to Franklin. The college building is surrounded by a fine campus, and stands in sight of the bloody fields where hundreds of our loved ones bled away their lives for liberty. We bespeak for this noble institution a liberal share of patronage from Middle Tennessee.

The editor of the Chattanooga Union, during a late exciting local election, jocosely advertised for a fighting editor. An applicant presented himself "well recommended," and to carry out the joke, was formally installed. Thus far the fun was on one side; but on Friday last the editors were surprised to find themselves sued for $45, claimed as wages by the fighting editor aforesaid. The case went to trial on its merits, before a justice of the peace, who decided that the proprietors of the Union should pay him for three days' service, six dollars and costs! Verily muscle is dog cheap in Chattanooga.

David Khun, and another gentleman of Nashville, have entered into a wager of most an extraordinary character. The wager is for one thousand dollars a side, the winning party to take the stakes which have, as we learn, been placed in one of the banks of that city. The feat to be performed for this wager is a walk from Nashville to Murfreesboro, which ever of the party reaching the latter place first, to be declared the winner. The two men leave Nashville on next Saturday night, at midnight; they go whatever gait they may choose, and take every "short cut" they may think proper, the party who first reaches Murfreesboro to have the money. We have never heard of a more singular wager than this.

The engineer of the Tennessee and Pacific railroad, Maj. Falconet, is progressing very successfully with the survey between Nashville and Knoxville. He is now on the Cumberland mountain and writes:

"I do not believe that the Cumberland mountain will be an obstacle in the way, and think that this road will cost less on this mountain than was expected. I have reached the first bench without difficulty and will be able to make the ascent with a grade sufficiently light for speed and size of trains."

HYDROPATHY.

The waters of Cincinnati are troubled—so are the people. They have found by analysis that one-half the solid matter of the water they use for culinary purposes is animal—all coming from the slaughterhouses of Deer creek. They prefer their animal food prepared in a different manner. The Gazette has a column article upon the evil. We suppose now they will drink less water than ever. The next news we have will be that Porkopolis is raving with delirium tremens.

PROTECTION FOR FERRY PASSENGERS.

In a recent case in New York it was decided to be the duty of every ferry company to have all suitable and requisite accommodations for entering upon, safe transportation whilst upon board and safe departure from their boats; and if these accommodations are wanting, and accidents happen thereby, the companies are liable in damages. In the case referred to a horse was lost, and damages recovered by the owner of the animal.

THE dilatoriness on the part of the war department to audit the pension claims is the occasion of a fearful harvest of suffering and distress among the widows and orphans of soldiers, in the west. Complaints have been made in congress, and we hope the matter will be speedily investigated, and Secretary STANTON taught that his sole duty is not how to elect radical senators,—while the helpless are starving from this neglect.

HORRIBLE CATASTROPHE.

Jail Consumed by Fire—Twenty-two Persons Burned to Death.

We are called upon to record one of the most horrifying and melancholy accidents which has ever occurred within the limits of this state. Though an accident which no caution or foresight could avoid, it will send a thrill of horror throughout the whole country. On the evening of the 7th inst., between the hours of 8 and 9 p.m., the occupant of the jail heard, very suddenly, a rumbling noise in the upper stories of the jail as if the iron grates were being shaken, and immediately followed the cry of fire, he rushed from his room to ascertain whether the jail was on fire or not, and after walking around the jail he observed a little smoke issuing from one of the windows from the third floor, his next object was to open the prison door and extinguish it, but remembering that Mr. Barineau, who was the jailor, had on his premises one hundred and ten yards from the jail, had the keys in his possession, he (the occupant of the jail) immediately dispatched a messenger for him.

Mr. Barineau, accompanied by the sheriff, were soon at the jail; in the meantime, however, numbers of persons had collected. The fire, apparently, at this time had not made as rapid progress as was shown in a few minutes, although a dense smoke was issuing from every window. The sheriff, with the assistance of nearly all the citizens of the village and the garrison at this place, immediately took the most active measures to save, if possible, the unfortunate inmates. The door in the basement was opened, but the dense and suffocating smoke prevented any one from rescuing those who occupied the third story. As a last resort strenuous efforts were then made, with the assistance of ladders, to remove the grating from one of the windows, which proved ineffectual.

At this time the cries and screams of the suffering inmates were heart-rending. The jail was in flames and twenty-two human beings were being burnt to death without any possible relief. Human agency could effect nothing, every effort was made to rescue them which could be suggested, but all to no purpose, the devouring flames soon consumed them, and in the charred ruins is only to be seen the ghastly spectacle of bones. Horrible as the accident may be, and as much as it may be regretted, a consolation follows of having done our duty to the best of our abilities; and that accident is not confined to place or order of circumstances. With us rests the duty, but the result with God.

At the time the jail caught fire there were in it twenty-three prisoners. Twenty-two negroes were confined in the upper cells on the third floor, among whom were three women. On the second story Robert H. Flinn, a white man, was confined on bail process. Mr. M. F. McBride, by great daring, rushed to Mr. Flinn's room, which was the first one at the head of the stairway, and unlocked the door, he thereby making his escape. Mr. McBride deserves the highest credit, but in his attempt to save the prisoner, he came nigh losing his own life; he fell twice by suffocation before he reached the foot of the staircase.

As to the origin of the fire, we can only conjecture. Whether it was accidental or designed by the prisoners for the purpose of making their escape, is one of those mysteries that will remain unexplained. A jury of inquest is now sitting for the investigation of the whole matter; but, up to the time of going to press, they have not rendered their verdict.—Kingstree (S. C.) Star.

Mississippi Intelligence.

In the proceedings of the board of police, published in the Hinds county Gazette, we find the following order:

"Planters of tp. 7, range 1 west, and all other planters within one mile adjoining said township, required to keep all their stock of every description in good and secure enclosures after the 1st day of March, 1867, ensuing, so that the planters of the same township may be able to cultivate their farms without fences, as the law in such cases directs.

The Natchez Courier gives the following particulars of survivors of the battle of New Orleans, residing in Natchez or its vicinity:

Major Henry Chotard yet lives in a green and contented old age, at his homestead—Somerset—two miles from this city. He was one of Gen. Jackson's aids during the battle.

Capt. John B. Nevitt is seen, at the age of eighty-four, almost daily in our city. He served as a midshipman in the Mediterranean, and was before Tripoli in 1804. He commanded one of the boats in the little flotilla of the United States, on the memorable 8th of January, and did honorable duty, with his men, upon the land during the battle.

John Routh, of Tensas parish, a prominent citizen and planter, formerly of Natchez, was also at the battle.

Jacob Eiler, of this city, the oldest inhabitant here, revered and venerable, was only prevented from going with Capt. Wilkin's company by lameness. He was detailed to go to Florida, under Capt. Hill, but not wishing to claim exemption, furnished a substitute.

We believe there are other survivors in this vicinity; Michael Trimble, of Fayette, Jefferson county; Thos. Scott, of Franklin county; Daniel Hays, of Amite; Thos. Harvard and Henry Johnson, of Wilkinson. All of these gentlemen are, we believe, about eighty years of age.

The National Intelligencer, in noticing the return of the congressional excursionists from their frolic in the south, says:

"In going and returning they had upon nearly all the lines of the roads over which they passed special trains attached, to which were refreshment cars, that were served in the most gorgeous and liberal manner by direction of the several presidents who accompanied the party on their respective roads. President Owens, Tate, Burns and general ticket agent Moffet went with the excursionists to New Orleans and returned with them as far as their homes.

"We understand that the cost of the trip will be at least thirty or thirty-five thousand dollars, if not more, and this from the ruined and desolated south to those that she feels to be inimical to her, is an example of genuine generosity and magnanimity worthy the emulation of the congress of the United States."

[We shall be agreeably disappointed if we do not get our reward in abuse.—Richmond Enquirer.]

What Constitutes a Majority?

We recently asked, in view of the meagre vote in the senate which was declared to have overridden the president's veto, "What is a two-thirds vote?" and now, finding that the bill establishing negro suffrage in the territories was declared passed, although it only received 24 votes, and the Nebraska bill, only receiving 24, and the Colorado with only 23 votes, were also declared passed—we are induced to ask, "What constitutes a majority of the senate?" There are twenty-six states represented in that body, each having two members, which makes fifty-two votes, a constitutional majority of which would be twenty-seven votes. But possibly we have no right to question the acts of our imperious masters.—Newark Journal.

How Our Hospitality is Returned.

The Richmond Times has the following:

Since their return from New Orleans, the senatorial excursionists have repealed the "thirteenth section." They have thus cut off their most prominent entertainers from all hopes of pardon, and handed them over to the mercies of the Underwoods and the Busteeds. The Indian and the Arab, when they have broken bread and tasted salt in the tent and cabin of an enemy, will not tomahawk nor stab him cruelly beneath the fifth rib. But not so generous are Wade and his companions. They have virtually said to General Beauregard and their other unpardoned southern hosts: "We have swilled your champagne, devoured your rich viands, rode free of charge over your railroads, permitted you to pay our hotel bills, and feasted upon the little which Sherman and Butler left you, and now, in testimony of our appreciation of your many courtesies, we repeal the section of a law upon which your hope of pardon hangs, and hands you over to the hangman and the executioner." The "mollifying effects of the late excursion" do not promise to repay the southern people for their generosity and kindness to these men. The radical bull dog Wade, after a surfeit of southern luxuries, resums complacently to his "vomit."

A Charge to a Jury.

An Indiana justice recently summed up a case in a novel and sprightly style, which astonished his entire auditory. He said: "Gentlemen of the jury, in this case the counsel on both sides are unintelligible, the witnesses on both sides are incredible, and the plaintiff and defendant are both such bad characters, that to me it is indifferent which way you give your verdict."

The supreme court of the United States, five of the judges assenting, delivered its opinion on the question of "test oaths," affirming in the strongest manner their unconstitutionality. A majority opinion on the part of the remaining four judges was also delivered.

At Jackson, La., recently, a child was seized by a catamount and terribly lacerated before it could be rescued by its mother. The same catamount afterwards attacked a boy upon a mule, and also attacked an emigrant wagon, the inmates of which shot it dead. It measured nearly six feet in length.

Stevens [illegible] to come down still heavier on the south. We begin to feel sorry that "our boys" ever burnt Thad's iron mill.—Southern paper.

THE BURNS FESTIVAL.—The much talked of Burns festival will take place at the Odd Fellow's hall, at the Greenlaw hall. It will no doubt be the affair of the season. The matter is in the hands of a committee, composed of gentlemen who know how and will do it up handsomely. The most complete arrangements have been made, and when the St. Andrew society says it will, there is no such word as fail. The memory of "Scotia's bard" will, on that day, be honored the wide world over, wherever a Scotsman lives, and we are sure that "Auld Scotia's brave sons and bonnie lasses" will not be behindhand in celebrating the anniversary of their "sin" poet's birth. Tickets may be obtained of the committee of arrangements and the officers of the society.

THE HIBERNICON.—We are sorry to learn that on account of the river being frozen between Cairo and Columbus the celebrated Hibernicon panorama will not reach here until the latter part of this week. It is meeting with immense success in Cairo.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Walsh of the Panola Star in our city last evening who comes here on business for that paper. The Star has a large circulation in a section of country that deals largely with Memphis, and our merchants will look to their interest in patronizing it.

GET YOUR FORTUNE TOLD—Madam Anna, No. 62 Gayoso street, is meeting with immense success in her art of fortune telling. We have heard of several people who have found the whereabouts of stolen property through her pointing out the criminals, and she is said to be peculiarly happy in love prognostics.

ST. PATRICK'S CATHOLIC FAIR.—The opening of the fair last evening, at the Stillman hall, was a complete success. Everything is arranged in a most elegant manner, and nothing is wanting to make every one who visits the fair feel perfectly at home. All the attraction that could be thought of has surely been attended to, and every young gentleman should be sure to give the fair a visit, as an hour or two could not be more pleasantly spent. The hall, last evening, was crowded with the youth and beauty of our city, and we have seldom seen a lovelier bouquet of pretty girls than met our eyes on this occasion.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.—A serious shooting affair occurred yesterday about noon on Main street between Winchester and Poplar, in which Mr. Jno. Duly was seriously injured. Having got into altercation with Mr. N. B. Boyle words ran high, when Boyle drew his pistol and fired, wounding Duly in the groin. A physician was summoned, but from the latest information the whereabouts of the bullet was not ascertained. The wound is said to be serious, perhaps dangerous. Boyle was arrested, and will probably be examined in a few days. It seems to be almost impossible to stop this promiscuous shooting. Upon the smallest provocation out comes a pistol, somebody is wounded, and perhaps a widow and fatherless children left to the cold charities of the world, when by a little calm, sober thought, the difficulty might have been amicably settled without having recourse to firearms. But such is life, or rather people make it so. Truly man is perverse and naturally wicked.

A STUPENDOUS SWINDLE,

How Green Ones are Taken In.

A Peep Into a Yankee Dodge.

It will be remembered that some months ago we published a letter from a New York firm, stating that on the remittance of a certain sum the agents would forward a ticket that would draw forty to fifty dollars for the holder. It further set out that this was done to buy the good opinion of the lucky party, in order that he would advertise the concern. Of course the swindle was patent, and was so well exposed by the newspapers that every man, woman and boy in the land new the cheat. The thing paid pretty well, however, and the rogues have got another circular which they send to all persons that they have an idea will bite. It will be seen that they send gold watches all over the country, but they forget to say that the bill on the packages they send are to be collected on delivery, and that when the package is open the contents may not be worth ten cents. But the letter is so plain that we give a copy of it, as sent to one of our citizens:

149 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, Jan. 15, 1867.

Dear Sir: As we have heard nothing from you since sending the certificates that you ordered from us, we take the liberty of again addressing you on the subject. Our gigantic operation has created a popularity almost surpassing belief; our clerks are daily selling watches to nearly all parts of the hemisphere, where they meet the most unbounded approval. So great is the favor which they receive everywhere, that we feel, could every one know of the project, and the honor with which it is conducted, the sale might still further be increased, and its reputation become world-renowned!

To secure this end, we will send any watches that your certificate calls for by express, and have you return the money for the same when the package reaches you! This gives you a watch before you pay for it, and wholly obviates the risk of entrusting money by mail or to strangers.

If you are dissatisfied with the certificates that you hold, try again, you may be more fortunate next time. We cannot, of course, give every one a gold watch, some must have low priced ones to make our sale profitable. But whatever kind of watch is named on the certificate, the article sent will exactly correspond, and moreover the watch is warranted to run and keep good time. Or that you may rest assured!

Many of our agents are becoming wealthy using our certificates, upon which there is nearly a hundred per cent. profit. For thirty dollars we send 200 certificates and a beautiful silver hunting duplex watch, worth seventy-five dollars. For forty-five dollars we send a beautiful gold hunting lever anchor watch, worth one hundred dollars; and for three hundred certificates. Among so large a lot of certificates, it would indeed be strange if there were not several very valuable gold watches. Cannot you make a club for us? Surely a few of your neighbors might be induced to subscribe by a little persuasion upon your part, by which you obtain a valuable time-keeper for nothing, besides the profit on the certificates. Remember, to convince you of our honesty, we will send any article or articles that you may select, by paying to pay in advance, and collecting only when you have received the article.

Is not this fair? Our sale is regularly authorized by the government, and conducted upon the most equitable principles, as may be seen by reference. We do this to call, and we hereby extend to the public generally, and you in particular, a cordial invitation to call and make any inquiries and the most careful investigation. Our stock of goods and manner of doing business is cheerfully shown, and every facility used to render your visit a pleasant one.

And if you wish any goods, order at once, as now is the best time. Let us have an answer from you, at any rate, by first return mail. We hope soon to have you patronize us, as we know you will be pleased, and that our trade will increase in your vicinity. Please order soon. Awaiting your orders, we remain, with the most sincere regard, your friends, J. RICKLING & CO.,
149 Broadway, New York.

P. S.—As a further inducement to agents or those who are disposed to assist us in our sale, we will give one of our solid silver duplex chronometers as a present to whoever will order, or cause one of any kind of our watches to be bought, and we will send the same in one package by express, with bill for collection. We do this to start business, at a loss, however, but hope to recover it on future patronage.

DEDICATION OF ST. PATRICK'S CHAPEL.—St. Patrick's chapel, corner of Linden and DeSoto streets, was dedicated on Sunday morning, and is now added to the list of places in our city where, says the Ledger, homage is offered to the Creator. The dedication services, as laid down by the rules of the church, were under the direction of the Rev. Father Riordan, pastor of the church, and were followed by a grand high mass, at which Father Riordan officiated, assisted by Father Thomas as deacon and Father O'Brien as sub deacon. The dedication sermon was delivered by Father Rochford, who took his text from the twenty-eighth chapter of Matthew: "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations," etc. He took the ground that the Catholic church was the church of Christ; that it was universal, catholic and apostolical, and reviewed the history of the church from the time of St. Peter to the present day. It was an able effort, and was listened to with marked attention by the large congregation in attendance. Father Peter was sung by the choir under the supervision of Mr. Pfefert, the organist of the church. The chapel is built of brick, and is intended as a temporary place of worship until the magnificent edifice is completed that is to be erected on the corner of the lot as soon as the necessary funds can be secured. The chapel is ninety-five feet in length by forty in width and will seat about five hundred. It presents a plain, but neat and comfortable appearance inside and out, and has been erected as rapidly as possible. Bishop Miles is supplying the Catholics of South Memphis with a place of worship. Two stories are to be added to the present building, and the whole structure will be used for school purposes as soon as the church is built.

ANOTHER INNOCENT TAKEN IN.—Jim Woods, a smart, intelligent looking negro boy, went into partnership with a white man yesterday in the hack business, which resulted somewhat unpleasantly for him to be locked up for certain in the city prison. The story as told at the police station is substantially as follows: Jim was approached by a white man yesterday morning with an offer to go into a business at which money could be made hand over fist. He agreed. He was furnished him and the trick explained. He at once sought a colored victim and won fifty dollars of his money. About this time the white man came up. The injured party began to smell a large sized rat and went for the metropolitans and had Jas. arrested. The white individual took leg bail and has not since been heard of. Mr. Commissioner Richards will dispose of the case this morning.

SUDDEN AND MELANCHOLY DEATH. A painful and sudden death occurred on Sunday evening last, at the house of Mr. Jno. Pike. It seems that Mrs. Susan Jones, wife of our well known fellow citizen Mr. W. A. Jones, and daughter of Mr. Kirke, had a slight swelling on one of her fingers. A medical gentleman was called in to lance it. At her request a dose of chloroform was administered, and while the doctor was performing the operation of lancing, she was observed to suddenly fall forward, and in a short time expired. The usual restoratives were applied in vain. Mrs. Jones was an estimable lady, highly connected, and universally loved. Her loss will be severely felt by a large number of friends.

A WARNING TO PLANTERS.—A negro named Ferdinand Jenkins, no relation to the penny-a-liner of the same name), was arrested yesterday on a charge of swindling. The facts are as follows: On Friday last a planter hired him for the year and paid an advance of ten dollars, also his expenses to Mason's depot. The next morning Mr. Mg was "non est." The same party came to town to-day for the purpose of getting some more help, and almost the first person he saw was the runaway. He very properly had him arrested. His prospect for several days' work on the streets is excellent. "'Tis a good payment that pays when the work is done."

BROKE JAIL.—It is sometimes very easy to catch some of the remnant of the once famous mackerel brigade who still infest the city, but it is not so easy to keep them. Two of the number, Tom Jones and Al. White, who were confined in the Adams street prison, made good their escape yesterday morning about three o'clock. Their modus operandi was to undermine their way through the wall, coming out in the alley. The hole was some of this band got clear they took the most for it. This time they had a tougher time, but as the result shows, succeeded.

REGISTRATION.—J. D. Davis, Esq., commissioner of registration, yesterday sent in a report to the county court, stating that 2404 persons had already been registered, and that many applicants came to him daily. He also requested that the court grant him authority to open an office and pay for his service. This matter should receive the serious attention of the county court. A register's office would be of great convenience to our people, and something should be done toward that purpose.

THE LOCK AND STRAP GAME.

Stool-Pigeon on the Rampage

A Porkopolitan the Victim.

A young man, hailing from Cincinnati, named E. Hutton, was yesterday made the victim by two of the many thieving scoundrels that are now to be found in every corner of our city. Two notorious thieves known as Francis Ward and F. Paul, whose business is to catch all unsuspecting people, and either rob them outright or do it by one of the many modes now in vogue among thieves and pick-pockets, yesterday introduced themselves to Hutton, and one of them asked him to take a drink. At the bar some one of the parties took out a pocket-book, which he said was lately found, and ran away. Hutton followed, and having caught him, turned him over to a policeman. Previous to the examination last evening, Ward went to Hutton and offered to compromise, by giving the victim fifteen dollars, which offer was declined. The case not coming properly before the police commissioner, that officer fined Paul $50 for gambling, as he had acknowledged to have won the money in that way. When the parties were taken to the stationhouse, the money which Paul had taken from the Hutton, was found in the possession of Ward, and both are as pretty a pair of miscreants as was ever found inside of a penitentiary, an institution these two nice birds will yet have the honor of tasting. The last we saw of the affair, Hutton was getting out a replevin for his money and a state warrant to bring the rascals to their proper place.

THE following certificate of the city treasurer explains itself, and sets an honorable gentleman right before the Memphis public:

MEMPHIS, TENN., January 21, 1867.

Received of J. A. J. Smith, for P. T. Hughes, twenty-four thousand seven hundred and ten dollars in coupons of Memphis bonds, cancelled, including fourteen Little Rock railroad coupons.
M. H. BRIDGES, City Treasurer.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.—On Saturday night, on the Mississippi and Tennessee road, between Oakland and Pope station, the up passenger train ran off the track. The night was dark and the sleet falling violently at the time, and Conductor Charles Fitzpatrick slipped under a truck and had one of his limbs cut off above the ankle. The night before, in attempting to get off the sleeping car, a passenger on the Mississippi Central road slipped and had one of his feet so crushed amputation was deemed necessary.

BRASS THIEVES.—On complaint of the general superintendent of the Memphis and Charleston railroad yesterday, Squire Gardner issued a search warrant against A. Kohly, C. Hattendorf and F. Eurell, charged with stealing a quantity of brass, the property of the company, or receiving the same, knowing it to be stolen. They will be examined on Thursday next.

OVERCHARGING.—Martin McDonald, hack driver, was fined fifty dollars yesterday for overcharging a negro woman for taking her from the Memphis and Charleston railroad depot to the levee. He took five dollars from her and gave in return some bogus tickets. A few such fines may tend to check this species of robbery.

COUNTY COURT.—But little business of importance was transacted at this court. The most interesting was the report of Judge Logwood, Mayor, of money disbursed on account of the county jail, which stated that he had received $49,287, and paid out $47,880, leaving a balance of $1507 in his hands.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATRE.—The beautiful play of the Brigand last evening was a great success and is surely one of Vestvali's greatest impersonations. Her "Gentle Zottello" was rendered with the skill of a master. The piece is repeated to-night and all who desire to see good acting should secure seats early.

POLICE MASTERS.—The usual Monday morning docket was presented at the commissioner's levee yesterday morning, and some seven cases disposed of, and some two hundred dollars in fines collected, which, all things considered, is a very fair day's work.

A northern paper, of a late date, reminds us of the curious fact, that almost every decade in the history of this country is ending with a failure severe, that marked the beginning of a financial depression. It says:

"Historic fatalism, if not actual signs of the times, incline many to believe that 1867 is to be added to the periods in our past history, made memorable by financial troubles. We have seen 1797 and 1837 that wiped out the continental currency, and in 1807 our troubles with France and prospective war with England threw the business of the country into confusion, while in 1817 we got the legacy of the late war, and 1857-'58 with which we are familiar enough to justify its cultivation.

bursing clerk of the postoffice department, Col. E. B. Olmstead, be relieved of the responsibility of monies to his credit ($2212 75) in the Merchants' national bank, of Washington, at the time of the failure of that institution. The reason for this order is that the account of Col. Olmstead, as disbursing clerk, was created at the Merchants' national bank by treasury warrants, which he received, and which were made payable there to his order. The amount held by the bank at the time of the failure remained unchecked in the legitimate course of business.

COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, January 21, 1867, 8 p.m.

The inclemency of the weather effected our retail merchants to some extent during the day, but our larger houses were quite actively employed filling orders. Stocks are becoming very low, and in many articles, such as pork and meats of all kinds, the market is almost bare. With no arrivals from above, and large stocks frozen up in the Ohio, our houses dealing in plantation supplies, have been compelled to order by rail. The stock on hand, in consequence of this scarcity, has advanced materially, and will, no doubt, continue to do so until the arrival of a fresh supply. There is a good stock of corn on hand, but holders have advanced their prices. Oats, bran and hay are, and have been, very scarce for several weeks. Prices are, therefore, hard to give with accuracy.

COTTON—The market did not show any great degree of life to-day. Buyers were shy and not disposed to invest. The difficulty of shipping was doubtless the cause of so much apathy. Our quotations of Saturday we do not change, but they were barely sustained to-day. Receipts for the day, 3940 bales; shipments, 978 bales.

American Cotton in Europe.

From the Mobile Times:

The report of the secretary of state for the year 1865 confirms our worst fears for the agricultural future of the country. In a comparative statement of the quantities of raw cotton imported in Great Britain during eleven months of each of the years 1861 and 1865, we find that, while during these two years, the quantity of American grown cotton imported in England was 61,875,380 pounds, that imported by other countries reached the enormous figures of 1,227,497,964 pounds. In this estimate the import of 1865 alone is given, the import of 1861 being the point from which to make the comparison. In this comparison, the Mississippi river and its tributaries from May 1, 1861, to the surrender of Kirby Smith and the cessation of hostilities on June 2, 1865, An average of 2,000,000 bales of cotton could have been shipped to a foreign market, and the loss of this vast amount of cotton, during the years of hostilities, was a total loss to the South. Add to this the fact that the cotton crop of 1865 was but

'Tis a wonderful trick—
This little invention of Morse's;
Traveling quicker far
Than Phœbus' car,
Though whirlwinds were the horses.

Gossiping ever
Of tide and of river,
Of Freedom, and thrones grown rotten;
Of the friend in need,
Of the murder'd dead,
And latest quotations for Cotton.

'Tis a wonderful trick;
Heedless of time and space,
Or the billow's commotion,
As under the Ocean
It runs its miraculous race.

The shy mermaid
And the beautiful naiad,
Hide in the coral dell,—
Though the waters are dark—
Lo! the vigilant spark
Of their charms to the world should tell.

Click, click, click,
'Tis a wonderful trick,
Time looks on his glass in wonder,
That no sand should run,
Ere the journey is done
Of the Spirit that speaks in thunder.

'Tis a mighty chain
That spans the main
Like the will of the Omnipresent;
And shouts o'er the land
The King's command,
Or whispers the plea of the peasant.

The following lines by Bulwer are capable of being read any way:

The love that trifles round the charms that gilds,
Oft ruins while it shines.

It is said to have been Thackeray who pointed out that this might be read:

The charms that trifle round the love it gilds,
Shines while it ruins oft.

Or:

Oft trifles where it charms.

Or:

The trifles that love gilds while oft it shines,
It charms the ruin round.

USE GALLIGHAN'S PILLS FOR CHILLS & FEVER A CERTAIN CURE

GALLIGHAN'S PILLS are composed simply of Vegetable Medicines. They are Cathartic Pills, acting upon the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, containing no Arsenic, Calomel, Blue Mass, or any other Mineral substance. The great advantage the Proprietors claim for these Pills is that, without the aid of Calomel, Blue Mass, or any other Minerals, they will cure the most delicate cases of CHILLS AND FEVER, DUMB AGUE, PERIODICAL HEADACHE, NEURALGIA, and all affections of a like character. Follow the directions you will find in each box, and all of that is claimed for them. Try one box, and their own merits will recommend them ever afterwards.

☞ We have sold Galligan's Pills, and have never known them to fail to cure when the directions were followed, and unhesitatingly recommend them to public favor.

NEW SOUTHERN MUSIC BOOK

Just Published:

TABOR;

OR, THE

Richmond Collection of Sacred Music,

BY R. M. McINTOSH,

Of Virginia.

Essentially Southern in its main features, TABOR merits and claims exclusive selection of the best Northern copy-right Music. Its author, for four years an officer of the confederate army, composed many stirring pieces in moments snatched during its marchings and counter-marchings in Virginia. The dirge used at the funeral of Gen. T. J. Jackson (vide wall, May 17, 1863, was from his pen, and is included in this collection.

"Mr. McIntosh," says the Richmond Whig, "is well known throughout the South as an author and teacher of musical excellence, with a musical reputation rarely attained by any man of his age in this country. In the South he stands at the very head of church music, no one disputing the position with him."

The book embraces everything of value of Southern or Southwestern origin, much of which is now for the first time reduced to a written form. Its variety is great—embracing 11 metres in use, in every key and every variety of measure—with a full elementary department and fine collection of new anthems, set pieces and sentences. It contains nearly 300 closely printed pages, neatly and tastefully gotten up, well printed and bound.

Price, $3 75, for which it will be sent, post free, to any part of the country.

Single copies, for examination and introduction, sent to any address, postage paid, on receipt of one dollar.
